Candidates Enter Ring For Municipal Elections

Suddes vs. Pitman Likely

Interest is mounting in prospects for candidates for the forthcoming municipal elections on December 11th. All councillors have signified their intention to contest their ward seats. A contest seems assured in Ward 7 with Mr. Sid Suddes mentioned as a candidate opposing Councillor Pitman, who will seek a third term.

In Ward 1 three candidates are in the field to fill the vacancy caused by the death last week of Councillor J. J. Clowkey. Mrs. Mary Tomer, Barnston Island; Charles Cox, and Roy Redman, both of Whalley.

SEATS CONTESTED

Ernest Wood, West Whalley; and George Smith, Whalley, will contest Ward 2 against Councillor W. A. Mortimer who has held the seat for two years.

A two-way fight looms in Ward 3 with A. E. "Sandy" Neale of 7576 Nichol Road, a defeated candidate last year, opposing Councillor R. M. Nesbitt.

So far no battle is in sight for Ward 4 against Councillor Lloyd H. Atchison, who has held the seat for several years. Councillor R. W. Keery will again seek election in Ward 5 and Councillor R. C. Miller in Ward 6.

SCHOOL CONTEST

So far only four candidates are showing up for School Board. Hugh A. Stewart, West Townline, a former councillor, and Mrs. A. Laas, Port Mann, will contest the seats with Trustees Wm. Watson, Fleetwood, and W. J. Wardrop, Port Kells.

There are four vacancies to be filled on the Board.

School Plans Returned, Too High

Tenders opened by Surrey School Board for the proposed first instalment of school building programme were $20,000 above the estimates allowed for in the money by-law. This includes three four room schools, at Hjorth Road, Anniedale and Grosvenor Road and a four room addition at Fleetwood.

Following a full discussion Trustees decided to return plans and specifications to the architect, asking for a trimming of estimates to come within the budget.

Tenders didn't include excavation and foundations. Tenders received were C. P. Woodworking, Cloverdale, $78,511 for Grosvenor Road; Monier Construction, $216,907 for Anniedale, Hjorth Road and Grosvenor Road and $53,714 for Fleetwood addition. Mutual Construction, $225,155 for Anniedale, Hjorth Road and Grosvenor Road, and $52,643 for Fleetwood. Rusk Construction, $299,977 on all four schools.

W. Lightborne, Mission, $65,115 for Fleetwood addition; Lickey Construction, $238,710 for the three schools, and the Gilmour Construction, $53,984 for Fleetwood addition.

Notice of Meeting

The Anglican Young People's Association of Holy Trinity Church are holding their first meeting in the Parish Hall on Wednesday, November 17 at 8 p.m.

Ratepayers Take No Stand To Abolish Wards

William Offer Elected Chairman

No official stand will be taken on the ward issue by the local Ratepayers' Association.

This was decided at a meeting of the organization last Thursday night. Members expressed the opinion that the question must be decided by each property owner individually.

Wm. Offer, former councillor, was elected ratepayer chairman. Councillor Pitman, addressing the meeting, warned that once the ward system is abolished it cannot be set up again. However, Surrey is faced with the alternative of abolishing the wards, reducing their numbers or making wards 7 and 2 smaller.

A. E. McElligott asked why ward boundaries could not be left as they are with public works funds divided as now on a proportionate basis, according to ward assessments. Councillor Pitman said he estimated $10,000 a year could be saved in book-keeping expenses alone in Surrey if this were done and thought Mr. McElligott's suggestion a possible alternative.

Former councillor, William Offer, elected to head the local ratepayers for the coming year, said that all angles of the ward abolition should be carefully studied before action was taken. A public panel discussion could be one means of giving an opportunity to both sides to voice their views, he said.

White Rock could become a forgotten area, said Mr. Offer. Whalley can elect three councillors and 60 per cent of the Surrey population resides north of New McEllan Road.

Elected to office as well were C. J. Smalley as vice-president, H. C. Mollenhagen as secretary-treasurer, and E. B. Barteau as street lighting chairman.

The regular monthly meeting of the Local Association of Guildes and Brownies will be held at Mrs. Margaret Mitchell, 742 Royal Ave., White Rock, on Monday, November 15 at 2 p.m.

Water Company Hopes for Meters for Users
Water meters in the near future for all water users in the White Rock area is the hope of the White Rock Water Works Company.

"This is the only fair way of selling water" said W. E. Johnson, managing director of the Company speaking to a meeting of the local ratepayers last Thursday.

'Arbitration Would Give W.R. Fair Incorporation Deal', States Parker

Grant Made to Civil Defence Officer

A grant of $50 a month for November and December was made by Surrey Council to the out-of-pocket expenses of Surrey Civil Defence Officer W. J. Beaton on recommendation of Councillor E. A. Pitman who suggested that a further grant be sought from government sources to meet necessary additional costs.

Colonel Pitman was satisfied Surrey has a very good man heading Civil Defence and he should be kept.

Government grants total $675 with Surrey contributing $225, or on the basis of 75 cents and 25 cents.

When incorporation goes through an Arbitration Board would see that White Rock got a fair deal either in Municipal equipment or the value of it, said Len Parker on Monday night.

The Incorporation Chairman, who was the guest of the White Rock Lions at their fortnightly supper meeting, was answering questions following his address to the local club on the subject of the current incorporation canvass.

Canvassers to the number of 12 are at present at work in the district obtaining signatures to determine if the residents favour holding a plebiscite on the matter.

Mr. Parker stated that of the 300 taxpayers already canvassed only 12 refused to sign in favour of incorporation.

In answer to a question concerning the cost of a city hall the speaker declared that suitable quarters could very easily be rented at first, thus eliminating that expense. Office space was readily available, he said, and a hall could also be rented on occasion for Police Court and public meetings.

"As far as equipment for road work is concerned," said Mr. Parker, "it has been proved that letting such work as road building, sewer and ditch digging by contract locally can be both sound and economical."

As soon as arbitration goes through there would be sufficient money from the settlement of the assets for White Rock to set up its own Council and begin business, the speaker concluded.

The preliminary canvass this week covered the main business areas and all reports were favourable. The Committee in charge have reported.

Les McQuistin, Lions President, thanked the speaker for his enlightening address.

CARS Treatment Begun at Hospital

Marking another important date in the life of the local Hospital the Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society treated four patients in the hospital on Tuesday afternoon.

Physio-therapist in charge was Mrs. D. Laidlaw, of Hickleton Road, Whalley, who also gives treatments at the Langley Memorial Hospital.

Treatments will be given every Tuesday afternoon from 1 to 3 p.m., said Mrs. Laidlaw. Twice a week or often treatments are scheduled as soon as the number of patients warrants it. Langley Memorial has about 30 patients receiving treatment at present, she said.

Any patients who cannot come to the Hospital are given treatments in their own homes. All persons wishing to have either hospital or home treatments, said Mrs. Laidlaw, must first contact their doctor and arrangements will be made with CARS.

Dean Clement of Ocean Park on Milk Probe

Dairy farming is the most economical type of farming for the Fraser Valley, F. M. Clement, retired Dean of the Faculty of Agriculture of the University and now resident in Ocean Park, said last week.

Mr. Clement was speaking at a hearing of the Royal Commission investigating the milk industry in the Fraser Valley. It would be better for the Valley to import grain from the prairies and stick to dairy farming. A farmer could make a net profit of $100 a month on a 40 tillable acre farm and 30 head of cows, he said.

Dean Clement was the Royal Commissioner in 1928 which recommended controls on prices.

Top of the Bill at Eighty-four Bransby Williams, the 84-year-old actor, broadcasting in a BBC programme called "Bransby Williams Reflects and Remembers" in which he looked back on more than 60 years spent in the theatre. Bransby Williams, particularly noted for his fine portrayals of Dickens' characters, is at home in the music hall or straight theatre, but he also takes readily to newer forms of entertainment such as recording, radio and television. He is extremely strong and energetic at 84, although he was always in and out of hospital as a child, and was too delicate to become a missionary which was what he once wanted to be.

Williams became a star turn in music hall, almost by chance. One night in a public house the young man, then 18, joined the crowd in booing a man who had been giving poor impersonations. The performer, distinctly nettled, invited anyone to do better. Williams, with knees knocking, stood up and impersonated characters from Chas. Dickens which he had been rehearing at home. The customers liked him and, encouraged by their applause, Williams decided to go on the stage. He spent some time in repertory and then came to London to see the agents with a view to going on the halls, but was rejected because his act was said to be "far too clean." And then one night at a music hall in Hackney a performer fell ill. Williams offered his services for a few minutes and was told to go on as he "couldn't do much harm." He gave the astonished audience a thunderous impersonation of Henry V. followed by Shylock. They cheered and he went on with some of his Dickens character studies and was cheered even more loudly.

After many successes Williams was finally booked for the Victoria Palace in London where he broke all music hall records for one artist by holding the stage for 40 minutes. Since then Bransby Williams has "topped the bill" all over Britain and in many other countries too, with impersonations of dozens of famous actors and character studies by the score. He was one of the first actors to appear on BBC television, and only recently gave a magnificent performance in Henry Irving's exacting role in "The Bells."

Guy Weston Badminton President

Over 40 ardent badminton players turned up for the opening of the badminton season in the Semiahmoo High School Gymnasium on October 16. Officers elected for the coming year were: Guy Weston, President; Don Shaw, Vice-President; Mary Molloy, Secretary; Gordon Lee, Treasurer; and J. Johnson, honorary president. Sessions will be held each Tuesday in the High School Gym commencing at 7:30 p.m.

LIBBY MORRIS

A vivacious bombshell called Libby Morris went east three years ago, gave listeners a taste of her peppy songs and antics on CBC's "Opportunity Knocks," and has been setting the entertainment world ablaze ever since. To say that she sings is an understatement; she's been described as a "real gone Betty Hutton-type gal" and, while she has Betty's tremendous vitality, her singing style is strictly her own. She's appeared on such CBC radio shows as "Libby with Paul," "We're Travelling Light," "Private Eye"—and on television in "The Big Revue."

Things are Looking Tough

There's no peace for an honest crook now that John Aylesworth and Frank Peppitt have opened up a detective business of their own. The sparkling comedians have a weakness for satire on anything from sleuthing to soap operas—and they're back on CBC Television this year in a new gale variety show "On Stage." With them are singing emcee George Murray, vocalists Terry Dale, Phyllis Marshall, Wally Koster, the Bill Brady Sextet, Jack Kane's Orchestra, and a host of dancers. "On Stage" will be seen on all television stations in Canada.

A Wise Grandmother

Now that she has reached the benevolent age of 75 Surrey Municipality, which this week celebrates that outstanding birthday, could be likened to a wise grandmother who looks back on a long period of tremendous growth and expansion, and awaits the future with equanimity and hope.

Congratulations from everyone living under the experienced matriarch's reign, are without doubt very much in order. All honour is due to the founding fathers who, on November 10, 1879, signed the Incorporation papers which gave the scattered Surrey residents at that distant date the right to administer their own affairs. Honour, too, goes to the many civic officers who ever since that year, have carried on the work of government.

What a task it must have been to the mere 218 voters registered even 20 years later in 1899, can well be imagined. Surrey was largely virgin forest in those days, roads were practically non-existent and the task of financing what improvements which seemed possible must have been tremendous.

But in spite of the almost superhuman task which lay before them, the early pioneers persevered and prospered, until today, Surrey, the largest Municipality in the Empire, with a population of 42,210, is entering an era of great expansion.

It is also, if the handwriting on the wall, is to be believed, entering another period marked by rapid urbanization with problems of its own. Whalley's growth in recent years has been nothing short of spectacular. White Rock, with its extraordinary climatic and scenic assets, is growing at a rate almost as breath-taking.

The answer is plain for all to see. These rapidly expanding urban communities are seeking what any son or grandson with any spirit will inevitably seek—the right of self-government. The wisest ruler of any family accepts that desire as perfectly right and suitable. Nor will she entertain any suspicion of disrespect or disloyalty of her offspring.

Thus the fact that White Rock this year once more is asking for a mandate from her residents to proceed with steps towards incorporation, should be a cause for pride on the part of the Municipality, that one of her districts has reached this point of maturity.

There seems no year more appropriate for such a step of adulthood to be finally taken in White Rock. If this resort city achieves her ambition she will only be proving herself worthy of the heritage of courage and enterprise handed to her by her pioneering antecedents.

Young Canada Book Week

During the past five years, Young Canada's Book Week has been a national demonstration of the value of good reading for children and young people. The sixth Dominion wide observance will this year be held from November 15 to 22.

During that time, libraries, publishers and national and local organizations will join together to bring to the fore the idea of making good books more readily available to children across Canada.

Mr. Arthur Lismer, celebrated Canadian artist and this year's patron of the Young Canada Book Week, has said, "Books are keys to treasure houses. The price of admission is curiosity and the will to adventure. The promoters of spurious fiction offer escapes from reality by vulgarism of word and picture. They are active, as never before, enticing the spirit of growing youth into impossible and fictitious realms of space and time, and into the lower realms of crime and sub-human trivialities."

It is absolutely, of no avail, as Dr. Lismer emphatically points out, for governments to legislate against such literature, if we can so grace by that name the stream of low-appeal material which invades our homes by way of the printed word or over the air, or sometimes even on the television screen. All we can do is arm our young people against it by inoculating them with the good taste and power of selection that books and pictures of real beauty and merit can give.

In this work such observances as Young Canada Book Week can render the highest service.

A Most Worthy Cause

In all the innumerable appeals addressed to the public for financial aid none seems more worthy to us than the call from the Central City Mission, so famed for its good work in rehabilitating the homeless and the destitute.

This year the Mission is making its annual appeal for assistance from November 15 to November 30. As its members quite rightly point out, the work that their mission is doing is not merely a Vancouver job for they are serving the whole of Canada. Men come to them from all over to share the benefits of the Mission. No questions are asked as to a man's creed or colour. His passport to the Mission is simply that he is a man in dire need.

The slogan of the Mission "For 45 years this mission has been a home for the homeless and a refuge for the destitute," speaks for itself.

We need only to look about us to see today how many promising young lives are being lost to a life of crime. The Mission's record of saving such unfortunates is a long and praise-worthy one.

All they ask of us is a small donation, either of money or used clothing. It is very little to give. We should be encouraged also in our giving by the fact that the Mission is most definitely a "self help" rehabilitation centre. All the lads who have been helped have been taught to read on their own feet. Of 10000 spent by the Mission in 1953 in the cause of giving young men in great need of both financial and moral assistance, over $1700 has already been repaid.

The temptations open to young lads who are hungry and have no place to sleep are endless. Ways of making "easy money" are offered to them at every turn. The Mission seeks to save them from these contacts and turn potential delinquents into dividends.

In that most worthy and pressing cause all our contributed "mites" will play a most important part. All money or clothing should be sent to Central City Mission, 235 Abbott Street, Vancouver 4, B.C.

MEMORY OF DAVID THOMPSON HONOURED.

A monument to the man who has been called, "Canada's Greatest Geographer" was unveiled at Castlegar, British Columbia, on Sunday, November 7th.

David Thompson, famed explorer of western Canada, fur trader, and the first white man to descend the mighty Columbia River from source to mouth, was commemorated by a cut-stone memorial built on the site of one of his historic journeys. The monument has been provided by the Department of Northern Affairs and National Resources on the recommendation of the Historic Sites and Monuments Board of Canada. Unveiling ceremonies were held under the auspices of the Castlegar and District Chamber of Commerce, representing the Department and the Board was Dr. W. N. Sage, British Columbia member of the Board.

THE MYSTERY RIVER

Monuments to Thompson's epic journeys already stand on the site of "Kootenai House" near Invermere, B.C., and at Jasper, Alberta. But none has existed hitherto to honour his feats of exploration of the Columbia River between 1807 and 1811.

The Castlegar monument stands on a spot where Thompson is known to have passed on September 5th, 1811.

The Columbia had long been known as the mystery river of the Pacific Northwest. Simon Fraser, who descended British Columbia's other great river, later named for him, despondently entered in his Journal the words, "This is not the Columbia" when observations taken at its mouth proved it not to be the long sought mystery river.

Captain Robert Gray, American fur trader, discovered its mouth in 1792. Lewis and Clark explored the lower waters between 1805 and 1806. But it was David Thompson, then a trader with the North West Company, who discovered the headwaters in 1807 and, four years after, travelled the main stream from source to mouth.

FROM YOUTH TO AGE

Thompson was born in Westminster, England, in 1770 and apprenticed at 14 to the Hudson's Bay Company. In 1797 he transferred to the North West Company and eventually became a partner. From 1797 to 1812 he lived the rugged adventurous life of fur trader and explorer on the western plains and the Pacific slope. Wherever his journeys took him he made traverses and observations of latitude and longitude. Before leaving the West in 1812 he prepared a map that has been the basis for all subsequent maps of the area.

He settled at Terrebonne, Lower Canada, and later at Williamstown, Upper Canada, and spent six years surveying the boundary line between Canada and the United States. He died at Longueuil, near Montreal, in 1857 at the age of 87.

Thompson's own narrative of his explorations, not published for many years after his death, was edited by the eminent Canadian explorer and historian J. B. Tyrrell and published in 1910 by the Champlain Press under the title of "David Thompson, Explorer."

On The Bookshelf

RENDEZVOUS 127, by Mme. Brusselman. This book is a diary kept from September, 1940 until 1944 when Brussels was liberated.

Although the author had two children who demanded attention, she was glad to help the allied airmen when help was needed. Her home became the centre of the escape organization, where as many as 38 airmen were harboured at one time. Mme. Brusselman's courage was as great as her sense of humour and the diary is spiced with laughter. When the end of the war came the Gestapo had to admit they had been beaten at their own game by this valiant woman.

AIRCRAFT CARRIER, by Joseph Bryan gives a graphic description of how the U.S. Navy also slept and lived during months at sea in wartime. Lieut.-Commander Bryan, who was a public relations officer, recalls that as a boy he had been disappointed that his "male relatives had so little to tell him of their adventures during exciting times." He was resolved that his descendants would have no such complaint. Hence his diary.

"Aircraft Carrier" is packed with human interest. It is a record of how young men react to the excitement of war and communal living. Although it is the U.S. Navy, the reader can see the young boys he knows acting in much the same way. This is a book to appeal to readers of high school age as well as to the elders.

AIRPORT NEAR WHITE ROCK?

An Airport at or near White Rock, I guess you've read it too: Well, I've listened to its posters, tell what it means to you: New buildings and machine shops, and so many other things. More business and etcetera, that any Airport brings. Now take our Breakwater, for instance, what was it spied to bring?

More business to our stores and shops, cash registers would ring.

Ocean plying vessels, steamships calling at our pier. Yachts and tourists in large numbers, from both far and near. So far just disappointments, but let's take another view. How much would an Airport benefit, in fact to most of you? Consider wartime preparations, that are going on all over. Would our enemies drop their bombs, only on Vancouver?

No, they'd blast at every Airport, including White Rock, with- out doubt.

Is it wise to want an Airport? or, much safer be without?

To the Editor,

Dear Sir,

Are we pushing our little business men to the wall with our short-sighted policy of purchasing goods at chain stores and mail-order houses?

Do we not owe a little to the men and women to whom we are indebted for carrying on so faithfully our every community service, especially as it costs us not a cent more. By being fair and honest with ourselves about a few so-called bargains in town we recognize the fact that all-year round service by our local merchants gives us money in pocket.

The people most vociferous against big business are usually those that pass the family merchant to patronize the Corporation whose profits go out of town.

How stupid can we be? If we contribute to the trend of driving out the local food merchants we the mechanics and other businesses will be the next victims of the trend.

What the future of our town will be depends right now on you and me. Where are you buying your groceries this afternoon?

Yours truly,
A SHOPPER.

The COMMON ROUND

A. J. P.

ALTERING HISTORY is apparently the right and the duty of every civic-minded person. Or at least so says Vernon Bartlett, the well-known English writer and broadcaster. He no longer believes, says Mr. Bartlett, as he did when he was very young, that he can alter the course of history. But he does believe that life would lose its spice and sparkle unless we try to alter history to the best of our ability and according to our conscience. "What, after all," he asks, "is democracy but the outcome of the individual attempts to do just that?"

IF DISASTER should hit us suddenly as it did recently in Toronto, how prepared are we in this area? That is a question every adult should be asking these days. Along with the nearby cities of Vancouver and New Westminster, White Rock has three potential dangers — fire, flood and earthquake. It is well-known that in some of the older sections of the town, laid out in earlier days, when summer cabins were practically the only residences, the dwellings are much too close together. With the high winds off the Bay and the deep snows old man winter sometimes brings us, Fire Protection can become a terrific headache to our valiant fire department. As for floods, they may be unlikely but tidal waves could be another matter. None of us should be so foolish as to say "It can't happen here." Toronto likely thought the same until Hurricane Hazel struck last month. We all know that our area is also in an earthquake zone. So what room have we for complacency? None whatsoever. It is a good thing that a civil disaster plan is being prepared for the Vancouver target area which will give a clear definition of duties in necessary services to the municipalities.

When the plan is approved by the various councils many welfare organizations will be ready for emergencies such as took so many lives in Ontario. Forewarned is to be fore-armed. Never a truer saying.

TO DAM OR NOT TO DAM

Faith is primarily a kind of expectant loyalty toward God.

Life and the world, and only secondarily an intellectual conviction. It is much more like falling in love than like adopting a philosophy.

—Rev. S. M. Shoemaker

COMMON SENSE

Don't laugh at the fellow who is an eccentric or screwball. A right of democracy is the right to be different, so when you see somebody doing something in an odd or startling manner, don't laugh at him, watch him.

"AT SEMIAHMOO HIGH"

By VINCENT COYNE, THE STUDENTS' COUNCIL. The main spring of all student activities is a body called the Semiahmoo Student Council which functions under the guidance of the Principal, Mr. M. Sanford and the adviser, Mr. F. Kish.

The council is made up of one person from each class in the school together with the additional five members of the executive.

This year's President is David Walton, who presides at the meetings of the Council, held every Wednesday noon.

Bruce Fraser is the 1954 Vice-President. The duties of the Secretary are carried out by Kase McIntyre.

Nina Scott, the Treasurer, handles the financial side of the activities of the Council.

Finally, there is a sports representative, who brings before the Council for consideration, the opinions of the student body on sports.

ACTIVITIES—All extra-curricular activities are arranged and financed by the Student Council.

The Council arranges the purchase of sports equipment, team uniforms and a P.A. system, just to mention a few, from the funds they raise.

Dances, magazine sales, sporting events and candy sales are the main fund raising activities. In recent years the Council has always left more than $100 in the bank for next year's Council. So this is the real backbone behind the wheel that is always turning.

SPORTS

Semiahmoo's Junior Boys bowed out of the tournament on Saturday, October 30, when they suffered a 1-0 beating at Moody Park in New Westminster, against Cloverdale, after a hard fought game.

There is basketball at Semiahmoo on Friday, November 5 at 7:30 and 8:30 when the Ex-Grad boys and girls will take on the two school teams in what promises to be an exciting evening! That's at Semiahmoo's Gymnasium this Friday.

Mrs. Pearson Celebrates 87th Birthday

An 87th birthday is being celebrated on November 4 by Mrs. T. R. Pearson of 708 Washington Avenue.

Mrs. Pearson, who was born in New Westminster in 1867, is receiving congratulations from relatives and friends. Though slowing up a little she still enjoys life and had her first plane trip this summer when she travelled to Hazelton to visit her niece, Mrs. M. Myro, the former Dorothy Mallinson of White Rock.

The return trip was made by car, in three days, with overnight stops at Prince George and Vernon and thence home by way of the Hope-Princeton Highway.

and Miss Mary Hewson, secretary, sent the first balls skimming over the net as a signal for actual play to commence on the long-awaited courts.

A drive for membership is being undertaken by the new club. Charge for membership from now until the opening of the 1955 season next April, will be $2. This will be deducted in the spring from the full fee of $10 for all members who join now, say club officers.

A second court, now graded and gravelled, will be complete for play in the Spring, club members hope.

Constructed under the supervision of the Parks' Board, the tennis courts will be partly

HOBBIES GALORE

Are you a handicraft hobbyist? The University of British Columbia offers you free information about decorative and printing processes, leatherwork, floral, puppetry, spinning, toy making, weaving and other crafts.

You may take your instruction in short courses, lectures or demonstrations, either on the University campus or in your community. Books and pamphlets are available through the Extension Library and Pamphlet Loan Service. Lists of titles will be sent upon request. Several excellent motion pictures on crafts are available to the public, but must be booked well in advance.

Sounds all right, I must say. Interested groups should write the U.B.C. Extension Department outlining their requirements, a suitable date and the number of people interested.

WHERE'S MY PIPE?

Naturally, you have all heard of the latest fad for women smokers? Yes, you've guessed it, pipe smoking for the better half. Just how far the rage will go, or the smoke spiral is anybody's 64 dollar question. As for myself, I'm afraid to offer a prediction.

Having always been allergic to pipes, even for men, I can't see myself going overboard on this newest feminine madness. For, in spite of arguments pointing out that cigarettes are a "nervous smoke" and that pipe smoking is "soothing," I doubt if I ever could be reconciled to the sight of women puffing, even if the pipes are fancy and rhinestone studded. However, I suppose it is once again "Every woman to her taste!" We seem more and more to be headed for a society where in costume and habits women are scarcely distinguishable from men. A pretty dull world it will be if the trend goes much farther. First slacks and jeans — and now pipes!

Perhaps we should be hopeful that, as one man of our acquaintance argues, family disagreements can be discussed in what he calls "a more amicable atmosphere" if both parties are smoking pipes rather than cigarettes!

I have a sneaking suspicion that—as happens over and over—the women had little to do with the beginning of this fad. Some smart promoter thought the whole thing up as a money-making racket and started the ball rolling with smart advertising and the cigarette cancer scare.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

With days getting crispier and more appetite-forming every week many housewives will be using heartier desserts. A quick one is the old-fashioned batter pudding, or steamed variety.

If you're tired of the usual chocolate, butterscotch and custard sauces, for such puddings, then you must add this "Nectar Orange Sauce" to your list of recipes. It's made with apricot whole fruit nectar, orange and lemon juice. Serve it as you would any sweet sauce over desserts such as ice cream, cake or pudding. Any canned fruit juice may be used if a tart sauce is wanted.

NECTAR ORANGE SAUCE

1 cup apricot whole fruit nectar
1/2 cup granulated sugar
1 tablespoon cornstarch

Few grains of salt
1/4 cup orange juice
1 tablespoon lemon juice

Heat nectar. Add sugar, cornstarch and salt blended together thoroughly, cook and stir until clear and thickened. Remove from heat and blend in juices. Serve over puddings, ice cream, cakes.

Makes about 1 1/2 cups sauce.

FACTS AND FANCY

By Sally Ross Allan

Every year, in our land, hundreds of different kinds of toad-stools and mushrooms spring up in their own mysterious way.

Of these, at least half are edible, but — and here is the chilling fact — about a dozen deadly poisonous ones resemble the edible so clearly as to be almost identical. These are called Amanitas, or death cups and are widely diffused, and also, deadly poison.

Oddly, the queer freaks, like clubs and corals, the cranks and tomfoolery of drop shape and satanic colour—funny poisonous looking morels, ink caps and boleti are all good to eat. Amanitas, with demon of the woods is probably the deadliest of all vegetable growths. Springing up in a night, living but a few hours and leaving no seeds visible.

To this pale villain, and its kin is attributed the responsibility for all deaths caused by toad-stool poisoning! Its poison is a subtle alkaloid akin to rattle snake venom, rarely showing its effect till too late for treatment. For centuries, its nature remained a mystery, defying all remedies, and only in fairly recent years have we begun to understand the why and whereof of this deadly assassin with its lovely name, Amanita.

"Swat that fly," is no idle admonition! Prolific breeders, the common house fly, if left to go its merry way, would, in a matter of weeks, completely cover the earth with a layer of the pesky things four inches deep!

Long ago, before the Indian learned the white man's way, eagle feathers were awarded bravely by the Grand Council of his Lodge or tribe for outstanding deeds, preferably those performed in battle. So it is, that from the red man's ancient war bonnet, we derive today's expression "a feather in his cap."

To the Editor,

I would be glad if someone would enlighten me about this new plan of appointing government officials to undertake local assessments in place of the hitherto municipal officers. Did the government initiate this procedure without consulting the municipal councils? If so it seems rather high-handed if not undemocratic.

Are the municipalities going to derive any benefit from this increased taxation which, I understand, is estimated at around 15 per cent? I must have been asleep while this has been going on for I'm all at sea on the subject.

WEEK BY WEEK

In the Garden

By G. E. SERY, Garden Editor.

Time for Planting Fruit Trees

This is the season for planting fruit trees and in fact all deciduous trees as well. Holes should be dug somewhat larger than the spread of the roots of the tree after broken and long roots have been removed. The top soil is better laid to one side separated from the sub-soil. Care should be taken to firm the soil around the roots by tramping or tamping. Fill in the surface soil first and the sub-soil last. A shovelful of compost can be mixed with the soil in the bottom. Set the tree about two inches lower than it stood in the nursery.

Trees on dwarfing stock (E.M. ix) are usually grafted high, but in any case the point of union between stock and scion should be above soil level. Apple trees on East Malling No. IX stock should be staked and supported immediately at planting time.

In handling nursery trees, be sure roots are not allowed to become dry. After planting a yearling tree, prune back to the desired height, having in mind that the scaffolding branches are to come out from below this point. New headed trees require less labour in pruning, picking and spraying.

WELL-COLOURED RED APPLES ATTRACTIVE

For those who are planting apple trees commercially with the intention of offering the fruit for sale, be sure its colour is a good rosy red, for these are always in demand.

The McIntosh, of course, is taken as a standard type for colour and quality. A new strain of McIntosh is known as the Summerland Bush.

Two apple varieties for late Fall and early Winter, and originating at the Summerland Experimental Station are Spartan and Jubilee. Both resemble the McIntosh parent but are two to three weeks later in maturing. Spartan is almost solid red in colour with firm, crisp, white, juicy flesh and in quality is considered to be superior to McIntosh. Jubilee is also an attractive apple, but is not the solid red of Spartan. Its quality is good with flesh crisp and cream-coloured. Both Jubilee and Spartan store with less shrivelling than does McIntosh.

There are several other good red Fall apples but the varieties mentioned are the safest.

PEARS

The Bartlett pear, of course, is the first on the list, being a popular canning variety, and one of earlier varieties to mature. Beurre Bosc and Beurre d'Anjou mature about September-October. Beurre Hardy and Clairgeau, October - November. Doyenne du Comice is a very large pear and is ready in October and November.

CHERRIES

These, like apples and pears, may be had as standard trees or budded dwarf stock. Bing, Lambert and Royal Anne, the most popular varieties, are all three self-sterile, and therefore another variety, such as Black Tartarian, Deacon or Van, must be planted nearby to insure regular setting of fruit. The popular Bing cherry is being displaced by Van, a black cherry, equally as good a quality as Bing, but not subject to splitting at ripening time.

To the Editor,

Dear Sir:

In a few days the citizens of White Rock will once more be asked to remember the dead of two World Wars by wearing a poppy and, where possible, by displaying a poppy wreath in places of business, churches, schools, and in the windows of their homes.

If the names of Ypres, Passchendaele, Vimy Ridge, Ortona, Falaise and Dieppe mean anything to you, then, the Poppy Fund will be for you much more than just another charity drive.

Then, Sir, the sacrifice paid by those who lay in Flanders Fields and many other battle fields, so that we today may enjoy the freedom so dearly paid for, reminds us that we can never repay the sacrifice, but we can honour their memory. There are the maimed and the sick, these may need immediate aid, and the Poppy Fund takes care of these.

We, of the Canadian Legion, and many other organizations united with us in this campaign, ask that everyone should wear a poppy, wear it proudly, so that all Canadians may give thought at least one day in the year to the high cost of freedom.

Yours sincerely,
WALTER PORTWOOD,
Chairman, 1954 Poppy Fund Committee.

THE CHURCH SPEAKS

The Sermon on the Mount is the moral law of the Kingdom of Christ, occupying in the New Testament the place occupied in the Old Testament by the Ten Commandments.

The moral law of the Old Testament was the utterance of the same God who now speaks to us in the Person of Jesus Christ. In the New Testament the law is deepened and developed.

The Sermon is the moral law of a new Kingdom, the Kingdom of Heaven, the Kingdom of the Messiah. It is a law not only for individual consciences, but for a society—a law which, recognized and accepted by the individual conscience, is to be applied in the establishment of a new social order.

No Salary Increase for Teachers

Firm stand against increases in teachers' salaries in 1965 is being up throughout British Columbia.

Salaries have told B.C. Teachers' Association headquarters that cost-of-living does not warrant an increase, and that salary boost will show an additional increase on teachers who already face higher taxes in the new assessment set-up being sought in by the Provincial Government.

BCSTA has advised that the entire system of educational finance is under review by the government, but no information is available yet on what Victoria plans to do beyond the instructions already sent out for assessment changes by municipalities.

Many Boards are worried too by economic indications of 1964. Employment and labour income in agriculture, mining, fishing, manufacturing and construction are all down. Net national income and gross national production are also down.

They have indicated that this year they want to "hold tight" to keep costs at present levels while uncertainty continues, and above all to avoid additional direct calls on taxpayers for education.
